Observ 520x Skin Scanner

OBSERV is a revolutionary skin analysis device taking you a journey beneath the skin's surface, by looking deep into the layers of your skin. It can reveal many skin conditions that surface with time, that can originate within the dermal layer and are difficult to diagnose with the human eye, but with OBSERV 'State of the Art' technology we can instantly reveal skin conditions such as rosacea, dermal and epidermal pigmentation, sunspots, acne and dehydration. Its advanced lightening modes helps to identify the root cause of specific skins concerns, which enables us to offer personalised advice on skincare products and treatments plan to address your concerns.
